Terry,

It was good to meet you and Brett at the ATVAM convention. I do appreciate the work that your club went through to setup and run the ATV pull and mud run and hope that we can work together to get some side by side racing going in MN. I was not impressed with the way ATVAM ran the convention but took that up with them. It was "ok" but that was about it unfortunately.

The mud run was fun and I am glad you guys let me and the guy on the Arctic Cat show off some after it was done. I hope that will help show people it is just for fun and to just have some fun!!!! Standing it on end was cool and making some tidal waves. That pit could have been much more fun with a little work but I don't know how it started for you guys or what the owner would let you do. That hump in the middle was fun but kills a mud pit for racing, but for fun it is as I was trying my best to clear it but didn't have the horsepower. The mud run was quite disorganized from the atv pull, imo. I was walking around prior to the race trying to talk people into entering but got no takers. I do know that some get intimidated by large atv's with snorkels and aggressive tires. It always helps to get a stock ATV to go through it to show it can be done, especially in that pit as any ATV could have gone through it without any possibility of damage. Music is always good to keep the crowd interested as well. I did not see any signs up in the campground leading to where the pulls or mud runs would be. I am just mentioning these to assist you with future events as I see it only helping the sport so I hope your club takes it as such.

I am by no means an expert at designing and running an event and feel we can work together to get something going for next year. Please let me know if you and your club is interested in assistance with side-by-side racing for next year as I can assist and get you in touch with those that have successfully formed events over in WI. I also have contacts at some larger outfits to assist.

Just let me know as I am looking to assist in any way possible.
